Fast Facts:

1. Grew up in a family with multiple generations of Salvation Army ministerial service on both sides.
2. Became a devoted fan of Kurt Vonnegut, Jr. in my early 20s, which partly explains why I didn't carry the torch mentioned in #1.
3. Spent formative years in New England, which is why I see myself as a New Englander, despite having lived elsewhere most of my life.
4. Wife escaped from East Germany about a month before the Berlin Wall came down.
5. Have conversational German skills.
